

The Formartine & Buchan Way

Udny Station to Ellon

5 miles

Walking, Cycling & Horse-riding

Ellon from the air

Directions

The route can be accessed from two points in Udny Station. As you enter Udny Station from the east along the B999 there is an opening on the left just before the houses with a slope down to the route. There are no parking facilities at the bottom of the slope. An alternative access more suitable for wheelchairs and users of limited ability is from the open space to the rear of Chestnut Walk.

Ellon is an expanding small town with a rich natural environment. The river Ythan runs through the town and woodlands surround the edge. The Formartine & Buchan Way, in Ellon, runs along the striking viaduct, which at the time of building the railway, gave builders many problems. Today the viaduct still stands proud offering the walker and cyclist a splendid view of the town.

Hints and Tips

Red squirrel

Visit Ellon Library for any visitor information on local facilities and events.

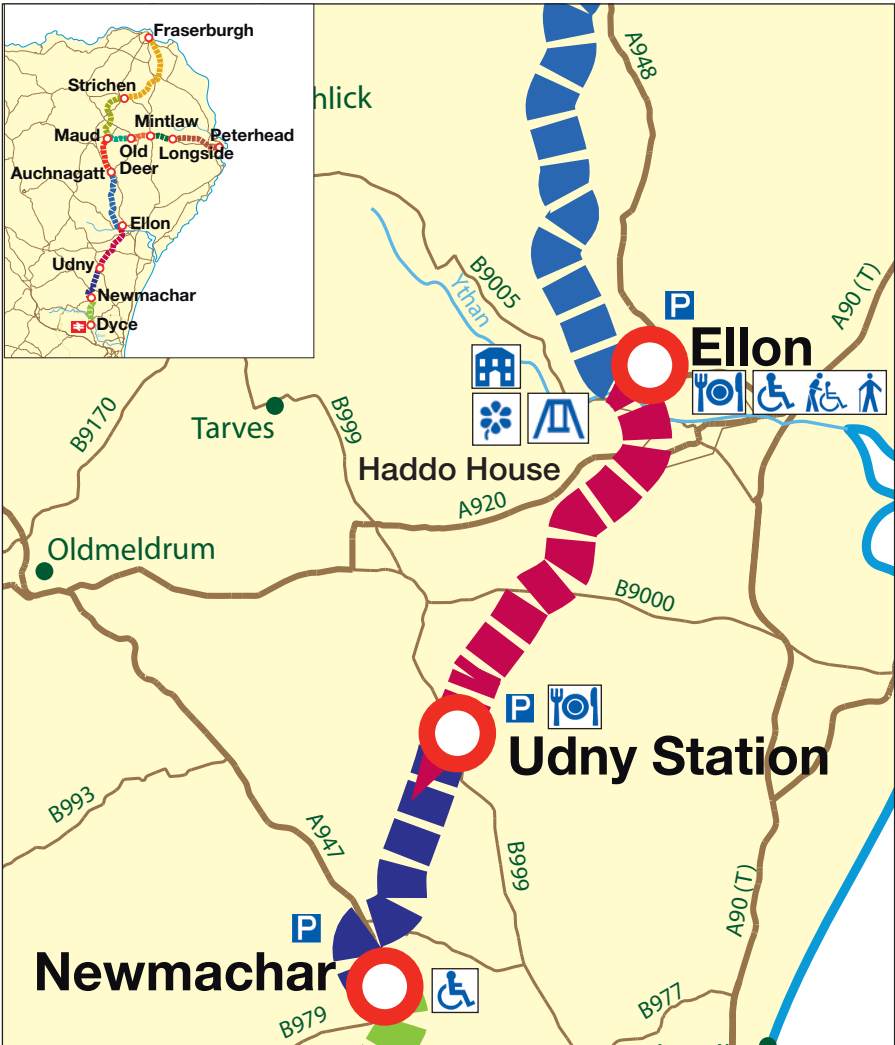

- Take your binoculars as you can spot some interesting varieties of birds and possibly a red squirrel.
- Wear suitable clothing and footwear for outdoor use.
- Watch the salmon leaping in the River Ythan in late autumn.

The Formartine & Buchan Way

Udny Station to Ellon

5 miles

Based on Ordnance Survey mapping. © Crown copyright reserved. Aberdeenshire Council, 0100020767 (2010).